WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated.
Testimony of Hickman Citizens.

When a Hickman citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Don's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Hickman resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

J. S. Bell, 607 Troy, Ave., says: "I was taken with a sharp pain across the small of my back which bothered me a lot when I bent over. Through an acquaintance I bought of Don's Kidney Pills and bought a box at Hedin & Ellison's Drug Store. I got the very best of relief from them and I am glad to say a good word for a medicine like Don's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't stop to ask for a kidney remedy—get Don's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bell had. Foster-McBreen Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A SAFE MAJORITY.

With a week-end survey showing 51 votes against amendment as compared with 41 in favor, League of Nations supporters in the Senate are confident the covenant and Peace Treaty will get through without change or separation. Several Republican Senators have come out strongly against any action that would endanger world peace.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Wornline, 2342 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and even more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as told to Mrs. Wornline.

IN RECOVERED TRENT

Old Consiglio Castle in Trent.

By LLOYD ALLEN, Special Staff Correspondent.
(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

TRENT, in the upper valley of the Adige, has just been restored to Italy, and at the peace conference the final pact between the nations that fought Germany will undoubtedly give Trent to the Italian nation for all time.

Leaving Padua early in the morning in one of the powerful automobiles of the Italian supreme command, in the first party of newspaper men to visit these lands reclaimed from Austria, I arrived in Trent by way of Verona after a five-hour ride, during which we passed through the wrecked villages that mark the old mountain battle fronts of the Austrian and Italian armies.

Along the fine rock roadways that run along the Adige river, a swift-flowing mountain stream, a small line of refugees was plodding along, on foot for the most part, returning to homesteads deserted during more than two years of war.

Just a few miles north of Verona the first sight of war's destruction was the little wrecked village of Marco, for two years under shell fire. As we passed through the place the evidences of battle were still ample. Austrian trench helmets, clips of cartridges and discarded trench spears were to be seen scattered among the piles of stone and timber of wrecked homes. The beautifully frescoed village church was nothing but a shell of walls.

On the roadway leading up to Marco hundreds of Austro-Hungarian prisoners were busy repairing the roadbeds. Some wore their very ornamental dress overcoats lavishly in the display of knotted braid and fur.

Towns of the Trentino.

Trent in itself is a rather inconsiderable town. It had a war-time population of some 25,000 persons, a large majority of whom were Italians, we were told. In peace times the population is around 40,000. But in the whole province of Trentino there are more than half a million people, and it is the province, as well as the town, that Italy fought for at the cost of 400,000 men killed and nearly a million wounded.

Back of the Italian demand for the Trentino is a sentimental reason, and a practical commercial reason. For the sentimental and national side first, Italy points out, through her biggest statesmen, generals and propagandists, that 420,000 of the 600,000 persons living in the Trentino are Italians speaking the Italian language. Trent as well as the smaller towns in the Trentino, such as Rovereto, Ala, Arco, Levico and Pergine, are filled with buildings of Italian design, decorated with Italian art and using the Italian language in the schools and offices.

We passed through several of these towns. The people on the streets were as Italian as the street crowds of Padua, Verona and Vicenza, cities of the Venetian plain through which we passed in the earlier stages of our trip.

Signs, decades old, on the buildings of the Trentino were in Italian, advertising the wares certain Italian merchants were trying to sell.

The practical reasons that Italy has for keeping her tricolor flying from the mountain cities of the Trentino are numerous and vital.

Every Available Inch Tilled.

First of all the Trentino is a very productive region where vineyards and grain fields flourish on both sides of the Adige, producing large quantities of foods. It can be said truthfully that every available inch of land in this section is in a state of cultivation. To an American farmer the intense method of soil tilling would prove a revelation.

Only through centuries of careful work with hoe and plow has it been possible to create the garden that extends from Verona, where the Adige river strikes the Venetian plain, to the impassable mountain valleys many miles away where the absolute absence of soil forbids any attempt at farming.

The fields on either side of the river are broken into small lots, thousands being as small as a city block; many are much smaller in order to completely fill a segment of rock-locked earth. On these plots, that have been leveled with infinite care, the farmer of the Trentino grows grain, garden truck, grapes, and often other fruit. The grapevines are kept pruned to about four and a half feet high for the main stem, which grows to the thickness of a man's wrist, while the tendrils are trained onto sticks, or in many cases to trees that are kept pruned down to a thick stump six or seven feet high with small branches half an inch in thickness protruding in a sheaf from the stump.

Ancient Consiglio Castle.

During the middle ages Trent was a typical fortified city crowned with an old feudal castle. Built in 1400, this stronghold, Castle Consiglio, has come down to the present generation in a beautiful state of preservation. While the Austrians held Trent the place was used as a kind of town jail. Cesare Battisti, native of Trent, an ardent pro-Italian who had the nerve to enlist in the Italian army against Austria, was shot in the courtyard of the castle, and is today the town and the Italian nation's martyr.

Stored in the wonderful old castle were 50,000 captured Austrian rifles. Piles of gas masks, trench tools, murderous trench knives and other odds and ends of fighting man's equipment were stacked in several of the large rooms.

In one of the main corridors was a typical Austrian torture machine. It consisted of two rings, the first about nine inches from the floor and the second about four feet above ground. The prisoner was to fasten a prisoner's ankles to the lower ring by means of a piece of rope, while the unfortunate man's hands were tied behind him through the upper ring. This threw all the prisoner's weight on the wrists and ankles. Usually a man fainted after several hours.

Inspection of the old Consiglio castle revealed how the war machine of the sixteenth century—for the castle itself was a fort—had been made to serve the purposes of the twentieth century war lords.

In the highest room of the place, a circular chamber of the tallest tower, was all that remained of a German wireless outfit. The operators had made themselves comfortable in the damp old place by putting storm windows in the loopholes that were originally cut for the convenience of cross-bow men.

To get to the tower one has to pass through a frescoed courtyard where men were hanged centuries ago. About five or six feet from the old gallows, a double affair, runs a sheltered gallery from which the dukes and their courtiers, sheltered from the weather, could witness the execution.

Some of the public squares in the city of Trent have fine old buildings in Italian architecture, decorated from ground to roof with gorgeous frescoes, the coloring of which is still vivid.

THE IDLE RICH.

The teacher asked his pupils to write an essay, telling what they would do if they had $5,000,000.

Every pupil except little William Powers began writing immediately. William sat idle, twiddling his fingers and watching them on the ceiling.

Teacher collected the papers and William handed in a blank sheet.

"How is this, William?" asked the teacher. "Is this your essay? Every other pupil has written two sheets or more, while you have done nothing." "Well," replied William, "that's what I would do if I were a millionaire."

D. S. TIME TO CONTINUE.

There is no probability of repeal of the daylight saving law this summer, says Washington advices, as opponents of the repeal seem to have been successful in preventing the Rules Committee from calling out the resolution to be attached as a rider to the Agricultural Bill. This will delay final action probably to October.

Opponents of prohibition see now hope in the threatened split of "dry" forces in Congress over means of enforcing nation-wide prohibition. It is generally believed in official quarters that they will base their fight on the high cost of enforcing the amendment under bills now before the House. Both sides are preparing for quick action as the date when the amendment is slated to become effective draws near.

National Guard Loses Most

Suffers More Severely in War Than Regulars or National Army

Study of casualty statistics of thirty combat divisions of the American fighting forces in the war, issued by the war department and giving figures up to a recent date, sheds some light on the relative part played by the regular army, the National Guard, the National army and the marine corps in the war. The tables show those killed in action, dead of wounds, missing in action or taken prisoner. Field signal battalions, ambulance companies, trains, and some other specialized branches of the service are not included, but the tabulation shows graphically the total losses of each basic section of the army.

Slightly wounded or others who were able to return to the service are not included, the figures applying only to those who were absolute losses so far as active military operations were concerned.

Figuring the percentage of loss, not according to the numbers in each section but for the total American force, it is found that the losses of the regular army were 30 per cent, the National Guard 39 per cent, the National army 27 per cent, and the marine corps 4 per cent.

The table follows:

	Killed in action.	Died of wounds.	Missing in action.	Prisoners.	Total.	Pct.
National Guard	11,555	4,596	5,445	1,457	23,053	39
Regulars	8,524	3,549	5,237	551	17,861	30
National army	8,023	3,207	3,890	798	15,918	27
Marines	1,300	707	271	76	2,354	4
Totals	29,392	12,059	14,803	2,882	59,036

*The marines are listed with the Second division of regulars.

WELCOMES INVESTIGATION.

If charges against Senator Stanley, to be based on alleged draft board irregularities, misuse of pardoning power and other violations of executive authority to win votes for himself, are to be proved by the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, there was no evidence of it as yet.

So far as Kentucky's junior Senator is concerned, he says he welcomes a sweeping investigation of his record while Governor of the Commonwealth.

If the Senate desires to turn the spotlight on it, he insists he is not a whit concerned about the matter. If there is no grounds for all this talk, quite a few Fulton county folks would like to see the Senator exonerated by the committee, clarifying their idea that there is a nigger in the woodpile.

MEMORIAL TO DEAD.

Those Who Gave Lives in Service to be Permanently Remembered.

Twenty Seven Hundred golden stars, forming a constellation that adds luster to the brilliant record of patriotism of the Commonwealth, shed their of fulgent rays to brighten 2,700 Kentucky homes made dark by war and death. For there were two thousand seven hundred 2,700 to be brave Kentucky boys and men and women—yes, we mean too—who gave their lives in the service of their country and for allies the cause of liberty in the great world war.

The Kentucky Council of Defense, headed by Edward W. Hester, chairman, Kentucky's greatest patriot, as chairman, who is assisted by Fred P. Hester, his son, and a large force of volunteer workers, has been the State has just completed the compilation of Kentucky's death roster, its noblest contribution to the nation's war record. This record is made public today for the first time. It contains the names, addresses and causes of death of every soldier, sailor, marine, nurse or other person who died in the service of the United States, British or French army, who were from Kentucky, from the beginning of the war to the end, more than four years ago.

England, Kentucky, and is published in this issue. It will provide a record of service that has been omitted. The Council of Defense would be glad to have full information sent to Miss Emma Thompson, Hickman, Ky., who is the County Historian.

The number 2,700, however, signifies other dead of this war. Of these 2,700 and more names to be recorded, a large number had been recorded in the Department's records, but many were not. It is an honored duty to complete the record, and it is a duty which the Council of Defense is proud to have accomplished.

How Kentucky Soldiers Died.

The 2,700 names in this roster are grouped under six classifications as follows:

Killed in action	731
Died of disease	1,561
Died of wounds	395
Death by accident	89
Lost at sea	45
Carried out Starred	92

Total

2,726

The heavy mortality from disease was due most largely to the influenza epidemic of last fall, both in the American camps and overseas. The actual fighting fatalities are the 1,639 killed in action and died of wounds. Under the head of deaths by accident are several who were killed in airplane crashes. Last at sea include those who died aboard transports and those whose ships were sunk or never accounted for. Under the head of "carried out" were several deaths in German prison camps.

Thrilling acts of heroism and undaunted courage in the face of death, some of which rival the wonderful exploits of Sergeant York, the fighting Tennessee mountain chieftain, have been brought to light by the Council of Defense during the compilation of the State's death roster.

There was Maj. Tobie C. Cape, of Fort Thomas, Ky., who commanding a battalion of the 371st Infantry, continued to lead his men after being mortally wounded.

Private Edgar L. Cox, of Bonfordsville, Marion county, was recognized by a posthumous grant of the Distinguished Service Cross for his bravery in volunteering to make a reconnaissance some 600 yards in front of the front line positions. He was killed by a sniper while on that mission.

Private Henry Davis, of Demerston, recommended from an exposed position of the front line after leading several attacks on machine guns. He was mortally wounded. For his bravery he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

Capt. Lee S. Eads, a well-known young man of Lexington, received the Distinguished Service Cross for maintaining on duty with a detachment of his company after being mortally wounded.

In 30 Yards of Enemy.

Capt. Rubin R. Hutchcraft, of Paris, one of the Bluegrass section's most popular young men, led his platoon to the most advanced point reached by any American troops near Sedan. He was killed while making a reconnaissance within thirty yards of enemy machine guns. A posthumous award of the Distinguished Service Cross was made for this display of heroism.

Private Carter K. Koon, of Preston, in Caldwell county, volunteered to pass through heavy shellfire to rescue wounded comrades. He made two trips successfully, but was mortally wounded on the third. He received the Distinguished Service Cross.

Private Ambers Sapp, of Nopon, Fleming county, lost his life while destroying wire entanglements under a heavy barrage.

First Lieut. Raymond Scholberth, of Versailles, Woodford county, showed extraordinary heroism in action near Bantville, France, for which the Distinguished Service Cross was awarded. He was killed by a shell fragment.

Sergeant John S. Simpson, of Ready, Grayson county, was another for whom a Distinguished Service Cross award was made. He was one of four men from this town of fifty inhabitants killed in service. On the Salambert front he led a squad of men beyond and back of enemy machine gun nests, killed the gun crew and made the advance at that point impossible.

And so the list might go on with scores and hundreds of stories of individual bravery and heroic deportment under fire.

By no means was all the heroism displayed on land. Four Kentuckians were among the crew of the Cyclops, the Mystery ship of the war, now miss-

FOOLING WITH HEALTH SERIOUS

I have frequently asked druggists "What do you push in a blood medicine?" The answer usually came "The kind I can make the most money on." My answer has always been "Not me." I have succeeded pretty well, and I have always recommended the one that I had found by experience to be the best and the one I would be willing to take myself or give to members of my family. I have never offered the public a medicine that we do not use at home. This is why I can offer "Number 10 For The Blood," with a clear conscience; we have not only tried it on thousands of others but on ourselves. We take it in all cases where a blood medicine is needed no matter in what form it shows itself and we get splendid results in constipation, kidney, stomach and liver troubles. I truly believe if every one would begin in the spring and take "Number 10" they would escape malaria and fevers in all forms. J. C. McIndenell, 10 years a druggist, Reynolds, Ind.

Two Fulton county boys, Claud Jackson and Clarence E. Kimes were reported as killed in action and memorial services were held at Hickman in their honor. Claude Jackson was afterwards found to have been a prisoner in Germany and both he and Clarence Kimes have now returned to home and friends much alive.

The names of two women appear in the roster. Mrs. Mattie B. Hays, an army nurse at Camp Zachary Taylor, whose home was at Taylor boulevard and Longfield avenue, Louisville, and Miss Eleanor Mourner, a Red Cross nurse from Covington, High Brent Chambers, of Bardonia, Nelson county, a V. M. C. A. secretary is included among those who died of disease.

State-Wide Historical Drive.

The Kentucky Council of Defense is launching a State-wide historical campaign for the entire month of June. The purpose of this campaign is to interest the public generally in the historical work which the State council is now carrying on and to secure the help necessary to complete this work.

The purpose of the historical work is to make a permanent record in each county of the part the people of that county took in the war, both through the fighting forces and through the civilian war workers.

We are offering this stock to the citizens of Hickman and nearby territory so that you will be connected with us in one of the greatest enterprises that this part of the country can boast. This is not a local institution, but should serve the people within a radius of 100 miles square. No business enterprise in the state ever offered brighter prospects. No safer, more reasonable proposition ever offered you.

THINK IT OVER. ACT TODAY.

The beauty about it is that it is right here where you can see and know just what is being done and that you are helping to develop a home institution, and receive good dividends besides.

The packing business is peculiar in this respect—that it handles its business on the smallest margins of profit of any business—but that it is turned over oftener (almost twelve times per year,) thereby making good returns in the end.

For many years we have planned for this thing that we are now seeing grow into a great industry. It will be several times larger in the next three years.

The banks of the country have commenced to let money on live stock. This is a great forward step and should be encouraged to the extent that it not only helps the large dealers, but the smallest as well. It will cause the live stock industry to double again in the next three years and at the same time greatly increase the deposits of the banks. Co-operation is the thing we most need. When we help the other fellow, it also serves to help ourselves.

Indorsed as it is by bankers, farmers, merchants, clerks and people in all walks of life, this company is sure of success.

WORK FOR SOLDIERS.

Baker Leads Splendid Service of Salvation Army in France.

Secretary of War Baker, in a telegram to Evangeline Boud, commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, gives utterance to his appreciation of the work which the Salvation Army accomplished for the American Soldier in France. Secretary Baker, one of the speakers at the mass meeting in Madison Square Garden, at which the Salvation Army opened its $1,000,000 Home Service Fund campaign, referred to "the splendid spirit of helpfulness" which actuated the Salvation Army overseas workers and speaks glowingly of the affectionate and enthusiastic way in which the soldiers received the ministrations of the Salvationists. His appraisal follows:

I will avail myself of every opportunity to testify in the most public and helpful way to the splendid work the Salvation Army did with the American Expeditionary Force in France. The men and women of the Salvation Army were admirably selected, their service was one of great devotion; its spirit was always on the broadest human basis and the work of the army was affectionately and enthusiastically received by the soldiers, so that the whole relation ship between the Salvation Army and the American Expeditionary Force was characterized by a splendid spirit of helpfulness, out of which an inextinguishable amount of relief, comfort, sympathy and happiness was derived by our soldiers. The Salvation Army is entitled to have its friends know both the devotion it has shown and the success with which its ministry has been attended.

The people of Kentucky outside of Louisville and Jefferson county, who already have given liberally in a successful campaign will have the opportunity to aid in this noble work the week of June 23 to 30.

The appropriation for Fulton county has been set at $120,000 which has been divided equally between the eastern and western portions of the county. E. R. Ellison has been appointed by the Chairman of this District to direct the work in this portion of the county.

I Owe My Life to PERUNA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country, and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring, but, without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me so I cannot praise it too highly."

It Cured Me

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR.

Make this beauty lotion for a few cents and see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is not enough. It is irritating and should be mixed with oil and white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost of one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons. adv.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It cramps the bowels, it sickens you, it attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and have you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it hoes you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and don't gripe. adv.

SHOW RE-OPENS.

Crystal Theatre Opens With Bigger and Better Play House.

The Crystal Theatre was re-opened Saturday, after being out of business since about the middle of March, at which time it was destroyed by fire.

John R. Wright, owner, and houseman and machine operator (heavy equipment) may well feel proud of the new playhouse. Mr. Wright bought the brick building consisting of two store rooms and threw them together, making the new place much larger than the old having a seating capacity of 400 as against 250. There is also a stage 10x30 feet which will take care of vaudeville stuff. A new lighting plant, electric orchestra furnishes the necessary music, and was installed at the modest cost of $1,500. The open chairs are new and comfortable, being designed to conform to the sloping floor. The mere fact that the building is larger and will accommodate larger crowds means that popular prices will prevail where it would be necessary to charge more in a smaller place.

The front, too, is attractive with an original design, two large arches, in stone finish, supported by large columns. There are two front entrances, with a classy box office between. The opening from the rear of the building and close away with the ordinary the building. As a whole, it is one of the best new plays in this section, and the fans are delighted that it is running again.

After Friday, the show's career will be dropped for a new and more appropriate name, to be suggested by the patrons. Three judges, J. C. Ellison, H. N. Conner and T. E. Sweeney will select one name from among those suggested by the show's patrons. The winner will receive a season pass.

PREACHER HELD.

Charged With Abandonment and Non-Support of His Family.

Rev. Ed. Lacy, whose home is in the Commonwealth district, was placed in custody of officers of the law Monday, and a charge registered against him of abandoning his family, which consists of a wife and one or more children. For several years it is stated, Lacy has been a member of a certain religious sect and has been obeying what he considers to be a call to preach the gospel of the holy Nazarene. It is said, also, that he has been refused to associate with his family as a married man, and on this account he will now have to appear in the court on this trial. This trial will come on before Judge J. C. Ellison Monday, at 10 o'clock, at the Commonwealth district. He was held Monday for his appearance in court Tuesday. —Hickman Daily News.

CHEAPER BEEF.

Grass-Fed Cattle on Market Means a Reduction in Prices.

A decrease in the price of beef is "immediately at hand, according to a statement issued Saturday by the bureau of public relations, American Meat Packers Association. "Despite the fact that beef already is cheaper than pork, poultry and mutton, it probably will decline further within the next few days," said the statement. "There are several reasons. Cheaper grass-fed cattle, which hitherto have not been plentiful, are now moving to market. Exports of beef from the United States have practically ceased. The government has stopped buying. "It may take a few days for the lower price to reach the consumer. The reason is obvious. It lies in the fact that appreciable time elapses between arrival of cheaper steers at markets and the appearance of beef from those steers on the consumers' tables. The retailer cannot lower his price until he replenishes his stock of beef at the reduced figures expected."

CARRY PRIVATE PARCELS.

As an offset for under pay to rural mail carriers and to stimulate the use of the rural postal routes by farmers, the government will henceforth permit the carriers to handle nonmailable packages as private business on their routes and pocket the money charged for transport themselves, according to the announcement made by Hon. J. L. Blackstone of Washington, fourth assistant postmaster general.

Since the rural system was first inaugurated in Virginia in 1896 the carriers have been tied specifically down to only government matter, he said, but now the government has reached the conclusion that the time is ripe to help the carriers and assist in getting the farm products to the cities via the parcel post routes, which will take a mighty whack at the cost of living.
